

CAN A CADILLAC SURPASS ITS OWN GREAT REPUTATION?

The 1963 Cadillac does just that. In beauty . . . in luxury . . . in performance . . . and in craftsmanship, the new Cadillac creations portrayed in this brochure surpass the famous cars they supersede. Under the hood is a greatly refined engine. It is lighter in weight, quieter and smoother in operation than ever before. And in the way the 1963 Cadillac rides and handles and responds, where, indeed, many believed perfection had been already attained, Cadillac engineers have wrought miracles of improvement. But the purpose of this book is to acquaint you with the brilliant styling and elegant interiors of the newest Cadillacs. We feel certain that after appraising the 1963 selections, and then after your first few minutes at the wheel, you will agree that Cadillac for 1963 has surpassed its own great reputation.

A single glance and a short journey will convince any motoring enthusiast that the 1963 Sixty-Two Coupe is a car that rates special attention. The new relationship of the passenger compartment to the extended hood and to the rear deck gives this motor car an individuality that is uniquely Cadillac. At the same time, this newest of Cadillacs is distinctly fresh in concept and design and sports flavor. The new, powerful engine provides, of course, the measure of performance to match the dramatic new look. As do all Cadillacs, the Sixty-Two Coupe includes as standard equipment: Hydra-Matic transmission, power steering, power brakes, and heater.* Interior selections include three luxurious cloth patterns in a variety of eight colors. The interior color choices are a black and white combination, plus gray, dark blue, light blue, sandalwood, rose, turquoise, and green.

*All models may be ordered without heater-defroster, as an option at reduced cost.

The reasons for so wise a decision are numerous. Count among them the many features of this Sixty-Two Sedan that are standard equipment. For example: Hydra-Matic, power steering, power brakes and rear seat center armrest. And consider, too, the remarkable roominess and comfort of this model. The generous headroom, legroom and seat room of the Sixty-Two Sedan surprise many motorists, for these benefits are achieved with no sacrifice in styling. SELECTION IN THE LUXURY
CAR FIELD

Cadillac includes as standard equipment Hydra-Matic, power steering, power brakes, and, on most models, power seats. However, most Cadillac buyers like to personalize their cars with options and accessories to fit their personal tastes and needs. As a matter of fact, the 1963 Cadillac could be built in so many variations during a ten-year period of production there wouldn't be a single duplication. Your dealer will be happy to help you order a Cadillac precisely built for you. Shown on these pages is some of our most popular optional equipment. Last year, well over half of all Cadillacs were ordered with Air Conditioning. Seat belts are desired by many motorists. Because of this, every Cadillac is factory-equipped with anchoring bases. By ordering genuine Cadillac Seat Belts, you are assured of Cadillac quality as well as colors (eight) to match the upholstery. By specifying Cruise Control, you can automatically maintain a predetermined speed—and it also acts as a speed reminder. For 1963, Cadillac offers, in addition to its regular radio, a combination transistorized FM-AM set. The fidelity, tone, and station programming available with this radio will be especially appreciated by lovers of fine music.

Cadillac's new Air Conditioner-Heater System gives the owner instant temperature adjustment because a touch of the control immediately blends heated and cooled air. It also has the simplest controls yet devised for temperature and humidity control in a motor car. A single control panel provides a range of temperatures from very cool to very warm.

The new Cadillac Six-Position Adjustable Steering Wheel enables the driver to vary the steering wheel angle and position. On long journeys, an occasional change is relaxing, pleasant and adds to driver comfort. It's useful, too, when different members of the family drive the car. Adjustments are made by lifting a lever on the left side of the steering column, moving the wheel up or down to the desired angle, then releasing the lever to lock the wheel in position.
